Concluding Address Made to Overflow Audience Numbering 20,000 Persons.

WILD ENTHUSIASM WHEN CANDIDATE APPEARED

NOTHING LIKE IT EVER HAP-PENED IN OHIO BEFORE-LABOR DISCUSSED.

Columbus, O., Sept. 23.-Twelve speeches to enormous crowds marked the second entry of William J. Bryan, Democratic candidate for president, into Ohio during the present campaign. His concluding speech was made here tonight to an overflow crowd of 20,000 persons, while just previously he had addressed the largest audience that the largest audience that the prosecution with a purishment by fine or imprisonment, or both, the man accused shall have the protection of trial by jury to ascertain whether he is satisfied to stand. Mr. Bryan's appearance on the platform created a scene of the wildest enthusiaem, which took some time to die out, but the demonstration was repeated when he was formally introduced by James Kilbourne, Democratic candidate for governor of Ohio several years ago. Spoke on Labor Question.

His remarks tonight were on the issues of the campaign generally, but his speech to the representatives of the brotherhoods was devoted exclusively to the labor question, and more particularly the plank of the Democratic platform demanding a trial by jury in cases of indirect contempt. Reply to Taft's Argument.

Mr. Bryan said that as an argument against the position of Mr. Taft of the Democratic platform relating to indirect contempt cases was an insiduou attack on the judiciary. He mentioned the names of Senators Allison of Iowa,

Discussing the question, Mr. Bryan said in part:

Plea for Jury Trial.

'We say that there ought to be a jury trial, and the Republicans say that there ought not to be. This is a clear issue between us, and, my friends, I want to give you briefly our reasons, so that if you are called upon to defend your position on this subject, if your position is our position, and our position is your position, I want to give a few arguments, so that you will be prepared to defend them. Now, there is this difference between direct contempt and indirect contempt. In the case of direct contempt the contempt complained of or alleged is committed in the presence of the court. He does not have to examine nesses; he is an eye-witness; he decides the question pending on his own knowledge. But in the case of indirect contempt that is where the act complained of was committed outside of the presence of the court, and where it must be established by evidence.

Indirect Contempt.

"Now we are not complaining of the case of the direct contempt, but we insist that as this indirect contempt involves

The damaged section is about eight feet up from the keel and about thirty-six feet in length. There were also several holes in the bottom. The cruiser's steam pumps, however, are reported to be keeping the ship comparatively free.

THE DEATH RECORD.

A. Russell Peabody.

New York, Sept. 23 .- A. Russell Peabody, one of the attorneys who had a leading part in the defense of Harry K. Thaw, died suddenly today at Ba-bylon, L. I., of pneumonia. He had been ill only since last Saturday. Mr. Peabody was a member of a well known southern family and was about

At the time of the first Thaw trial he was a partner of Clifford W. Hartridge, who was Thaw's counsel of record then. After the trial there was a disagreement between them, however, and they dissolved partnership. Ever since the shooting of Stanford White Peabody has acted as personal attorney for Thaw. Mr. Peabody was a man of considrable means and took a great interest in horses. One of his properties was a stock farm in Tennessee, where he spent a good part of his winters.

John M. Burke.

Spokane, Sept. 23.-John M. Burke, one of the leading pioneers of northern Idaho, died Tuesday in Philadelphia, where he was trying to recover his broken health. Mr. Burke came to this region in 1882. He discovered some of the principal mines in the Coeur d'Alenes now belonging to the Federal company. The town of Burke, Ida. was named after him, and he was at one time a wealthy man and a leading political power in Idaho.

Republican Primaries Held in Weber County - Slate Generally Victorious.

At the Republican primaries held here last evening the selection of delegates was conducted by the machine in a hardhearted manner and in most of the precincts the slates were carried through without a break. In the Second ward the work became so raw that two of the voters, Dr. H. J. Powers and James Draney, suit; but in the case of indirect contempt, the judge gives the order.

"That is, he makes the law in the cases and he is prosecuting attorney and he is more than human to be the lawmaker, prosecutor, judge and do all of it well and fairly and impartially. If there is any place where a man is entitled to a trial by jury, it is in the case of indirect contempt.

The Denver Platform.

Were held. One party acted upon the call of the county chairman and held meetings in city hall, the customary place. The other delegation, known as the McKay faction, which contended that the county chairman's call was irregular, met in the Wangsgard hall and selected a full delegation. This meeting was held pursuant to a call issued by the central committeem and fairly and impartially. If there is any place where a man is entitled to a trial by jury, it is in the case of indirect contempt.
